CAN'T USE RUM IN "MEDICINES" AFTER JANUARY

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—Use of whiskey, brandy, rum or gin after next February in the manufacture of medicinal preparations or flavoring extracts and syrups was forbidden by a treasury order. Alcohol and wines can be used instead for the purposes named.

The order was issued by Assistant Secretary Andrews, in charge of prohibition enforcement. It will have no effect on use of whiskey, brandy, or other distilled spirits by druggists in filling prescriptions or manufacturing preparations upon prescriptions by physicians.

MINERS READY TO MEET MINE OWNERS AGAIN

Would Resume Parley on Pinchot Proposal — Coal Bootlegging Starts

Philadelphia, Pa.—(AP)—The United Mine Workers Saturday notified the anthracite region mayors and burgesses that they would resume negotiations with the operators at Scranton, next Monday on condition that the peace proposal of Governor Pinchot would be the basis of discussion.

While efforts to settle the anthracite strike are proceeding, there is some suffering from shortage of fuel in the hard coal region with the result that coal "bootlegging" has developed and that there has been at least one case of violence.

At Wilkesbarre many families and public institutions and factories face a serious situation. Believing that the strike would be of short duration, few persons laid in supplies. These now are nearly exhausted and it is next to impossible to obtain more. At Nanticoke it was feared the state hospital and the public schools would be forced to close early next week.

The shortage in Sunbury, 19 miles from the coal fields, has led to what is described by union officials as "coal bootlegging." Coal is shipped to Sunbury from an unregulated source and delivered at night at prices ranging from $16 to $18 a ton. Approximately 100 tons a day are being sold. Investigation by officials of the union is underway. One of the demands of the organization is permitting maintenance men to remain at work during the strike being that no coal should be shipped.

The first actual violence since the strike started on Sept. 1 was reported Friday night from Carbondale. A baker there was held up by a score of men while bringing a truckload of coal from Jermyn and shot through the leg.

Good Fellows Discharge Their Duty To Help Poor

Appleton Welfare council, for whom Good Fellows are opening their hearts and their purses in this Christmas season, was organized to systematize the performance of a duty. The four relief organizations which distribute the bounty of the Good Fellows to the unfortunate of Appleton formed the organization in order to increase the efficiency of their work. Long before a welfare council was thought of these women were active in their great work but as their duties increased they realized that a closer cooperation between the societies was required for maximum efficiency and the welfare council was the result. The council consists of representatives of the charitable organizations and of Rotary, Lions and Kiwanis clubs. The sole purpose of the council is to administer the business affairs of the combined organizations, leaving to each organization its individuality and its freedom.

The Good Fellows club was organized so that everyone may share in this work and to make it easy for every one to discharge his duty to the poor for it surely is the duty of everyone to give something of his means for those in distress. The people who receive help from the charities cannot help themselves. Every comfort is denied them and they lack even the barest necessities. To give these people even enough to keep body and soul together requires a lot of money, but it must be done.

Not much would be required from anyone if everyone will do his part but because there are a lot of people who are shirking this duty of doing "for the least of these" it is necessary for those whose hearts are bigger to make real sacrifices. This method of raising money for the relief of the poor was adopted so that everyone would have an opportunity to share in the joy of giving.

This campaign to secure money to help the poor is ten days old and scarcely a hundred names are on the honor roll of Good Fellows. Are there in Appleton only 100 people who can afford to give, even a little, for the relief of the suffering? The idea is preposterous. There are in Appleton more than 3,000 automobile owners and every one of them is able to give to this cause. Any man who can afford to run a car can afford to join the Good Fellows club. Those who do not are shirking a duty and they are missing their greatest opportunity to make this a joyful Christmas for themselves and for those they help.

There still is time to join the club. Clip the coupon and send it with all you can afford to the Good Fellows club Editor of the Post-Crescent. You will never regret it.

ARMY'S COURT GIVES CHIEF LUCKY BREAK

Coolidge Is Spared Embarrassing Task of Passing on Critic's Dismissal

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright 1925 by The Post Pub. Co.

Washington, D. C.—"Another break for President Coolidge may be recorded in the case of Colonel Mitchell. The whole country has been expecting that it would devolve upon the president to say finally whether the stormy veteran would have to be dismissed from the army. In some respects the suspension for five years is a worse blow to Col. Mitchell than dismissal, for if the latter had occurred, he would have been free at once to repeat his offense without further complications with army law and endeavor to win sympathy by speechmaking. Under the verdict, he can of course resign and do as he pleases about leaving the army but the initiative in leaving the army must come from him. Ordinarily an officer in the position in which Colonel Mitchell found himself today would not be permitted to resign as he is under definite punishment which must be executed."

MAY RESIGN

The general belief now is that Colonel Mitchell will resign and that his resignation will be accepted though this will probably not take place until after he has delivered a few blasts at the military caste which tried him. The kind of thing which marked the closing hours of the court martial is typical of what may be expected of the colonel from now on.

It has been apparent for several days that the court had made up its mind not to dismiss Col. Mitchell. The word had been passed around in inner circles that it would be a mistake to set him free. Public opinion, it was argued, had manifested itself as more or less interested in Col. Mitchell's denunciation because there was nothing personal in his remarks and, besides, he had made a record in the European war which entitled him to a hearing.

Meanwhile the friends of aviation development who have not been mixed up in the Mitchell case are afraid the big issue of aircraft expansion may be lost sight of in the quarrel over what Billy Mitchell said or did.

NOT FORGOTTEN

The report made by Dwight Morrow is not altogether forgotten but it has been for the moment put aside until congress gets into the question more deeply. A better "break" for aviation would have been to publish the Morrow report after Colonel Mitchell's case had been closed and sentence announced.

Colonel Mitchell has a number of staunch supporters in congress who may agitate the question. He probably will be called before congressional committees and in that case would hold the limelight again being given a certain immunity from punishment by the army when he testified. There is always a certain element of interest in a bombastic element of the part in power can be maintained. The next scene in the aviation row will be the committees of congress.

ITALIANS SACK TRIBE CAPITAL IN MID AFRICA

Rome —(AP)—In reprisal for the killing of two Italian non-commissioned officers and one artilleryman by forces of Sultan Osman Mahmud in Italian Somaliland, Italian troops have destroyed Barga, capital of the sultanate of Meccatins, and warships are blockading the whole of the coast.

The Italians are engaged in changing their nominal protectorate over this portion of equatorial Africa into a real protectorate. An official announcement says forces of Sultan Osman Mahmud tried to prevent functionaries appointed to confer with him from landing from the Italian warship Campana at Barga. In the trouble which followed the Italians were killed.

G. O. P. Leader in Congress Calls Measure Christmas Gift to Taxpayers

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—The $325,000,000 tax reduction bill entered Saturday upon its uncertain journey in the senate, assured only of prompt consideration.

With the measure effecting far-reaching slashes in income taxes payable next March 15, President Coolidge has asked the senate to act in time for it to become law before that date.

House Speaker of the senate (4) name committee to which the measure goes first for study and approval has called the committee to meet Jan. 4, immediately after the holiday recess.

Though passed Friday by the house by a vote of 390 to 25 and endorsed "in principle" by President Coolidge as well as the leaders of both parties in the house, the attitude of the senate on the measure is a question mark.

REFUSE PUBLICITY CLAUSE

The bill repeals the provision for publicity of income tax returns which has been a bone of contention since the passage of the gift tax, a provision forced into the last year in the house. However, the principal fight in the senate now appears to center on the measure's income tax changes, which relieve 2,500,000 tax payers by increasing personal exemptions, from $1,000 to $1,500 for single persons and from $2,500 to $3,500 for married persons. It reduces the maximum surtax from 10 to 20 per cent, while the normal income rates are cut from 2 to 12 per cent on taxable incomes of $4,000 and less, from 4 to 3 per cent on the next $4,000 of income and from 6 to 5 per cent on the remainder of income.

While heralded as a "nonpartisan measure," the bill was attacked by the last by Representative Ramey, (Dem.) of Illinois.

DEFEAT AMENDMENT

Just before the vote on passage, Mr. Ramey moved that the bill be recommitted to a committee with instructions to reduce the maximum surtax and other tax rates from 20 to 25 per cent. With a vote of 100 to 100, the amendment was defeated.

After final passage, Representative Tilson, of Connecticut, Republican leader, told the house its "Christmas gift" to the federal taxpayers had been considered and disposed of with "record breaking promptness." This was the first introduction of the bill, having been first passed in the house, having been constantly under consideration since the second day of the session.

SCHNEIDER VOTES NO

The vote against the bill were Republicans Beck, Browne, Cooper, Frear, Lampert, Nelson, Schaefer, Schneider and Voigt all of Wisconsin; Sinclair, North Dakota—10.

Democrats — Collins, Mississippi; Drane, Florida; Green, Florida; Howard, Nebraska; Huddleston, Alabama; Morehead, Nebraska; Rainey, Illinois; Rankin, Mississippi; Sabat, Illinois; and Sears, Florida—10.

Others — Berger, Wisconsin; Laguardia, New York; Socialist; Cars and Wetzel, Minnesota; Furman-Laband and Kvale, Minnesota, Independent—5.

Representative Algood, (Dem.) Alabama, was paired against the bill with Representative Abernethy, (Dem.) North Carolina, for it.

V. P. EDWARDS ATTENDS EAST PAPER PARLEY

Stream Pollution Cannot Be Regarded as State Problem Only, Is Report

Madison — (AP) — Cooperation is sought among paper manufacturers and the authorities of several states to solve the problem of stream pollution. Adolph Kanneberg, members of the Wisconsin Railroad commission, indicated Saturday.

Wisconsin was represented at a meeting in Harrisburg, Pa., this week by C. M. Baker, Madison, chief of the division of sanitary engineering, and Vance P. Edwards, Appleton, of the Forest Products laboratory. Other states invited to the conference by W. L. Stephenson, chief sanitary engineer of Pennsylvania, were Ohio and West Virginia. Representatives of the pulp and paper industry in Pennsylvania also were invited to the conference.

The purpose of the conference, Commissioner Kanneberg said, was to coordinate the efforts of the authorities in the different states interested in the problem of stream pollution by paper mills. If the different states could agree upon a uniform law for the treatment of sulphite liquor that forms much of the waste of paper mills, manufacturers could put the measures necessary to remedy the situation into effect on an equal basis without manufacturers of one state having an advantage over those of another. Mr. Kanneberg said, even if the remedial measures were not economical.

The Wisconsin commissioner is confident that a solution will be found for the problem. It is largely a matter of research, he said, in which manufacturers probably would be willing to join due to savings that could be effected. Cooperation among authorities having control of health, conservation and navigation and technical experts would tend to result in reaching the solution more quickly, he believes.

The remedy for the situation probably would come in the form of an evaporation process to be worked out in research laboratories, Mr. Kanneberg indicated.

HOUSE WILL TAKE UP RUBBER INQUIRY SOON

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—A resolution calling for an investigation of alleged manipulation of crude rubber prices by British colonial governments was given preferred status Saturday on the legislative program of the house.

The resolution was introduced Friday by Representative Tilson of Connecticut, the Republican floor leader. The action in giving it priority was taken by the rules committee. It would direct the house commerce committee to conduct an investigation of the means and methods of control of production and exportation of crude rubber, coffee, sisal, quick silver, naphtha, nitrates, and other such raw materials and to the effect this control has upon United States commerce, both as to supply and price.

GENERAL FENG LOSES BUT GETS SOVIET SUPPORT

Chinese National People's Army Given Russian Reenforcements After Defeat.

London —(AP)—The forces of General Feng Yu Hsiang, leader of the national people's army are declared to have met with defeat at the hands of the troops of General Li Ching Ling, civil governor of the province of Chihli, in a battle on the Yangtsun front. The losses in Feng's command are said to have been serious.

The battle started Thursday night when Feng opened with a heavy bombardment. Bitter cold weather compelled a halt in the fighting at midnight, but it was resumed Friday morning when Feng made an assault but was repulsed with heavy losses.

A dispatch to the Daily Mail, sent from the Yangtsun front by way of Peking says that reinforcements for Feng, having Russian rifles, Russian bayonets and quantities of Russian artillery and motors have arrived. It is the intention of Feng to use the greater number of these reinforcements in a maneuver to get behind the Chihli forces and sever their communication with Shantung.

To the north, in the Mukden sector, it is reported that a final battle is in prospect between troops of the national army and those of Marshal Chang Tso Lin, the Manchurian warlord.

In southern China great efforts are being made by Chinese students to make successful their plan for an anti-Christian campaign during Christmas week.

BARE GIGANTIC BOOTLEG DEAL IN ALTAR WINE

Chicago Grand Jury Issues 20 Indictments in Illegal Liquor Cases.

Chicago — (AP) — The government's version of the manner in which 500,000 gallons of sacramental wine illegally were withdrawn and distributed and the methods whereby hundreds of barrels of beer were shipped from the east and distributed here have been revealed in 20 indictments in two separate grand jury investigations.

Percy Owen and Ralph W. Stone, former prohibition directors and others were named in the wine indictments. One charge described a $60,000 payoff to Owen. District attorneys said they would seek to prove he received $200,000.

In the beer investigation the indicted were the Erie railroad, William Dillon, Erie agent in Waverly, N. Y., a suburban police chief, a gunman and eight others. A summons for R. E. Robbins, vice president of the railroad, was ordered issued by Federal Judge Adam C. Cliffe.

Instances were cited in the charges against Owen and his alleged aides in which 3,000 gallon lots of wine and more was delivered. Numerous payoffs of from $300 upwards for forged instructions and approval of 100 fake congregations were listed.

Beer was transported from Waverly, N. Y., to Chicago suburbs and there reconditioned, the beer indictments relate.

The bonds for Owens, Stone and others were set at $10,000 each.

COMMITTEE DELAYS DEBT FUND INQUIRY

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—Action on the war debt funding settlement negotiated during the summer, including those with Italy and Belgium was postponed Saturday by the house ways means committee pending a hearing.

The committee which must approve the agreements before they are submitted to the house called upon Secretary Mellon to submit certain data and then recessed until Jan. 4, when Mr. Mellon and some other members of the debt commission will be heard.

While this step was an unusual one, members insisted it was not indicative of opposition to the settlements. In the senate also the settlements have encountered an indefinite delay.

COURT RULES HEYMANN WAS OSHKOSH RESIDENT

Oshkosh — (AP)—In a long decision handed down by Judge D. E. McDonough in county court, the court Saturday declared his opinion that Simon Heymann, pioneer retired drygoods merchant of Oshkosh, was a resident of Oshkosh at the time of his death and had not established his domicile at Fort Meyers, Fla., as contended by his son, Seymour B. Heymann, in testimony given before the court a few days ago. The case has to do with determining the amount of inheritance tax coming to the state. It is expected an appeal will be taken to the shipment court.

LAY NEST EGG FOR HATCHING OUT NEW FARM-LABOR PARTY

Bismarck, N. D.—(AP)—A third party movement in North Dakota in preparation for the 1926 political campaign was started here Friday night with the formation of the Farmer-Labor party of this state.

The organization was regarded as a skeleton affair with its final definite status, probably unknown. Those who sponsored the third party idea are members of the Non-Partisan league. The league itself was not behind the plan.

Those who attended the meeting here adopted state and national platforms which they hope to put on a solid national footing.

The convention received a telegram signed jointly by Senator Lynn J. Frazier and Representative J. P. Sinclair both of North Dakota, advising against organization of the third party.

PREXY WON'T HUSH ON BIRTH CONTROL

Ann Arbor, Mich.—(AP)—Following the declaration of President Clarence C. Little that any attempt to muzzle him from expressing his private views on birth control, President Little's public advocacy of birth control measures nor was any attempt made to prevent him from expressing his opinions. It was learned that the regents discussed the question informally and were in accord that the President was entitled to express his opinions.

Dr. Little who came to Michigan from the University of Maine, definitely asserted his stand on free speech in an address Thursday night saying he was ready to quit if he had to "slut up" to win the confidence of the state.

PROTESTING FLIERS QUIT

San Jose, Calif.—(AP)—Three local army reserve aviators resigned from the air service Friday as a protest against the five year expulsion of Col. William Mitchell. The three were Lieut. Robert E. Ryan, Lyman Lantz and G. H. McMurry.

Lieut. Charles H. Kruse of Coyote, who sent a telegram of protest of the court's action, asserted that unless President Coolidge reversed the decision he would resign.

The resigning aviators also felt the court's action indicated an unfavorable policy of government toward the air service and that continuance of such policy made membership in the reserve corps undesirable.

IS INSULT

The Mitchell court-martial case came to the floor of the house Saturday when Representative Tillman, (Dem.), Arkansas, charged that the court was organized to "get the colonel and that its verdict 'insults free America.'"

"I call upon the granite faced and granite-souled president of this justice loving nation," he said, "to mitigate or quash this harsh sentence."

"They sought to affix a gag," he said "and at the same time impoverish him and his family. It seems that in this trial the usual military procedure was not allowed to take its ordinary course."

FALL AND DOHENY ARE DENIED NEW HEARING

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—The court of appeals of the District of Columbia refused Saturday to reconsider its decision holding to be valid the bribery indictments against E. L. Doheny, Jr., and Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior.

The indictments which grew out of the naval oil leases, were quashed by a lower court on the ground that an agent of the department of justice was in the grand jury room illegally. The government appealed, and the court, appealed recently overruled the lower courts. Fall and Doheny then asked for a rehearing which was denied Saturday.

Altoona, Pa.—(AP)—Ten persons were injured, five of them seriously, in the derailment of the Pennsylvania passenger train, No. 22, Pittsburgh to Philadelphia, near, early Saturday. The injured were brought to a hospital here.

Passengers said the entire train left the track and that the engine and one car overturned and rolled down an embankment. The injured included the engineer, fireman and eight passengers. They were brought to Altoona, in a special train and taken to the Altoona hospital.

The train was composed of the engine, two express cars, three coaches and three sleepers. What caused the derailment was undetermined.

A relief train was made up here shortly after news of the derailment was received and was rushed to the scene carrying nurses and doctors.

PATRONS GET BETTER MILK FROM DEALERS

Tests by Sanders Show Quality Gradually Coming Up—Milk More Pure.

Patrons of milk dealers in Appleton are getting excellent quality and very little impurities in the bottled product. At their doors, according to the December tests made by Theodore Sanders, deputy health officer, there was a marked condition in the city when Mr. Sanders took office and his constant testing and warnings to some of the negligent ones have brought excellent results. Not one vendor fell below the requirement of 3 per cent of fat content in milk and only three were giving less than the stipulated quantity of cream. The sediment tests also reveal a greater amount of cleanliness than previously existed.

There are 23 dealers supplying milk to Appleton consumers. Mr. Sanders took bottles of milk from the wagons of each so he would be sure of getting exactly what was being delivered. The fat test is perhaps the most important in the inspection. The lowest found this time was 2 per cent, and this applied to only one milkman. There were 13 whose test ranged from 3.3 per cent to 3.9 per cent. Six had milk of 4 per cent or better. The highest test was that of a farmer who registered 4.5 per cent butterfat. This condition represents a gradual improvement, as some tests were as low as 2.5 per cent when the officer first began his duties.

The dealer whose milk contained the most fat also gave the most cream. His test was 21.5 per cent. The lowest was 15.5 per cent, one was 17 per cent and another 17.5. These were below the local limit of 18 per cent and the dealers were warned to remedy this condition. The others averaged about 20 per cent. Here again there was an improvement, as a number were found selling milk several months ago with 15.5 per cent cream.

The average test for all 23 dealers was 3.1 per cent of fat and 15.8 per cent of cream.

Warnings also were issued to a few dealers whose milk showed too much sediment. These tests were classed as fair and good and a few were excellent.

AROUND THE WORLD CAR IS COMING TO APPLETON

A Buick touring car which recently completed a trip around the world will be on display in Appleton Tuesday, Dec. 22, according to word received by Ambrose Wilton of the Central Motor Car Co. The globe circling car will be on the streets of the city during the afternoon, and will be on exhibition at the Central Motor Car Co. from 7 o'clock to 10 o'clock in the evening.

The epoch making trip was covered in less time than was taken by the round the world fliers, to circle the globe. The Buick in one sense of the word made the journey alone, as it had no permanent mechanic or driver, but was piloted on its long jaunt by 359 drivers from Buick agencies along the route. The car was passed from one dealer to the next all the way around the circle. The distance covered in land mileage was nearly 20,000 miles. The start was made from New York City, and at the completion of the long trip the car was met by many enthusiastic New York Buick owners, and headed a parade down Fifth-ave to the city hall, where a speech of welcome was given by Mayor Hylan.

Still unaccompanied by any permanent driver the car is now visiting every one of the several thousand Buick dealers in the United States. This American tour will add about 50,000 miles to the 20,000 scored up on the world tour. The car comes to Appleton from Green Bay and will be driven from here to the New York automobile show.

HARVEST 15,000 TONS OF ICE TO KEEP CITY COOL

Lutz Company Increases Warehouse Capacity by Enlarging Icehouse.

About 15,000 tons of ice will be cut at Lake Winnebago this winter by the Lutz Ice Co. according to William C. Jacobson, secretary-treasurer of the company. The ice harvest will begin sometime next week if there is sufficient cold weather in the next few days to freeze ice to the proper thickness for cutting. Mr. Jacobson said. The ice is now about ten inches thick, but should be at least 14 inches before being cut.

The addition being erected on the west side of the Lutz ice house at Waverly will increase the capacity of the building about 20 per cent. The building is completed, except for putting on the roof, and this will not be done until the ice is packed. A new elevator chute or conveyor is being built at the ice house to haul ice from the lake into the building.

Merry Christmas!

Bohemian Malt Syrup
Special packages at your dealers

This is one of the most modern conveyors on the market, and will not only make the work much safer, but will also remove all surface ice and snow from ice going up the chute. The surface ice is cut away from the ice blocks as they go up the chute by a series of knives.

There is a machine for every task connected with ice harvesting, Mr. Jacobson said. A traveling saw mill goes over the surface of the lake cutting out ice chunks of uniform size. The ice cubes are pulled out of the lake, and conveyed into the building by machinery. Fifty or sixty men will be employed to harvest the ice, according to Mr. Jacobson.

COL. MITCHELL GUILTY
Col. William Mitchell has been found guilty of the general charge of insubordination by the court-martial which tried him at Washington. His punishment is suspension from rank, command and duty for five years, with forfeiture of pay. The court regards this as a mild sentence, for it adds that it is "lenient because of the military record of the accused during the World war."

The question of the government aircraft policy, which the defendant in this case attempted to have passed upon by public opinion, was really not involved. It was solely a question whether he was guilty of an act or language that came within a definition of insubordination. The decision that he was, we have no doubt, is a fair decision, notwithstanding the great effort made to have Col. Mitchell appear as a persecuted officer.

Former Secretary of War John Weeks, near the closing session of the court-martial, gave testimony which was highly detrimental to the accused. Regardless of whether restrained, and what may be termed constructive, criticism of the aircraft policy of the government and of the war department in particular, was valid, the major issue in this case was that of insubordination. If the policies were wrong, they could have been criticized without going to the extent and without the extreme language used by Col. Mitchell. It is necessary above everything else that discipline be maintained in the military establishment.

The inquiry has far from disclosed the weaknesses and maliciousness of the war department charged. It has brought out some defects, but they are relatively minor. Much has been made of them and more will be made of them in congress, but the fact remains that on the whole, our national defense is in a fairly satisfactory state. Improvement may be expected in the aircraft defense. To the extent that this is brought about the results of the controversy over Col. Mitchell will be beneficial.

REGULATING THE COAL INDUSTRY
Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania has called a special session of the legislature to deal with the anthracite strike. It is said Mr. Pinchot wishes to have the hard coal industry declared a public utility and to provide for its regulation by the public service commission or some other state agency. This is to be regarded as the governor's answer to the operators who have rejected his peace proposals. He rightly says the present suspension of mining is of pressing importance not only to Pennsylvania, but to all of the 10,000,000 anthracite using people of the country.

The anthracite industry has been a serious state and national problem for more than a generation. The reason is because it is a natural monopoly in the hands of a few persons. If Governor Pinchot and the legislature of Pennsylvania can extricate the consumer from the clutch of this monopoly, he will be performing a notable public service. It makes no difference whether the wrongs imposed upon the public are due to the greed of the operators or the unreasonable-ness of the miners. The country has no way of knowing which is to blame, but blame there certainly is.

A few years ago at a large public expenditure the coal industry was investigated by a commission. This commission went exhaustively into the soft as well as the hard coal industry and made certain recommendations. These have not been acted upon. One of the proposals the commission made was the creation of a division in the Interstate Commerce commission "with power to require financial and operating reports, to prescribe uniform methods of cost accounting and to determine the conditions on which coal may be shipped in interstate commerce." Had something like this been done it is possible the present strike would never have occurred.

Governor Pinchot's proposal is along the line of further concentration of political power over private industry. It is another step toward paternalism, and while that policy in principle and generally in practice has proved unsatisfactory and is to be condemned, nevertheless there seems to be no alternative in dealing with the hard coal monopoly. It has abused its power long enough and it ought to be taken in hand.

GOOD WILL IS OMEN IN POLITICAL SKIES
Is the "era of good feeling" come again? Not, certainly, in the sense that there is only one political party, and that nobody runs against its candidates. There are those, in Congress and out, who, because they are Democrats, will "do politics" against the Republican administration.

But on issues, the differences have disappeared. Which of the major recommendations of President Coolidge's message is regarded with hostility by the Democratic minority? On tax policy, they have already agreed on the bill which he recommends. On foreign policies, they are with him. Such little difference as there is on agricultural policies is not drawn on party lines. In fact, the message scarcely touched on a partisan controversial issue.

A Democratic president could have written it as well as a Republican. On most things, most Democrats will vote with Coolidge. There will be bitter opposition; but it will come from members ostensibly Republicans. We are more nearly a united nation than we have been for more than a generation.

TODAY'S POEM
By HAL COCHRAN
RAINY WEATHER
When you wake in the morning all filled up with gloom, and your feelings inclined to be blue, there's nobody else who can detract your doom for the day, Mister Man, except you.
Consider a day with the rain clouds on high, and the atmosphere dull-like and dead. The day plugs on through, without batting an eye, till the bright or side comes on ahead.
That's something like you, if you'll just stop to think. When blue, you're just caught in a storm. The man who won't fight it will go on the blink, as the clouds of downheartedness form.
Old Sol turns the trick that's a mighty good tip. He drives out the dark with his smile. So smiling is something worth while. Let it rip, and the bright side will come after while.
Isn't it a wonder Coolidge doesn't get mad at Congress and say something?
Keeping on the hop may be good advice, but consider the flea; the flea soon goes to the dogs.
We never see a star fall that we don't wonder if maybe it isn't the dove of peace looking for a place to light.

DISARMAMENT CONFERENCE
President Coolidge wishes to accept the invitation of the League of Nations for an international conference on land disarmament. He frankly says so. He believes we should cooperate with Europe for the reduction of military establishments that are a drain on Europe's resources, an obstacle to its economic recovery and a standing menace to peace. He will submit the invitation to congress, however, on the theory that sooner or later congress must pass on any agreement that might be entered into.

How can the United States possibly refuse the League invitation? To do so would be equivalent to repudiating our past and present professions of a purpose to advance the cause of world peace. It would be contrary to every tradition and fact of our own history. It would be a false attestation of public opinion and of the conscience of America to hesitate to accept this invitation because it originated in the League of Nations. It would be nothing less than a gross dis-

PROFESSOR WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP
In a chapter on Man and the Microbe in an elementary school textbook called "Healthy Living," Charles Edward Amory Winslow, Doctor of Public Health, professor of public health in Yale medical school, gets in a little over his head in an attempt to explain a matter of pathology, and succeeds in confusing the pupil. It is apparent that the professor does not know precisely what infection means. He should have sought enlightenment about that from a doctor—a real doctor, a physician, a real physician, a doctor of medicine—there are so many legitimate and illegitimate "doctors" doing their stuff these days that one must specify doctor of medicine if that is what one means.

Says Professor Winslow:
Some microbes may multiply in the nose and throat or in the intestines without doing any harm. The disease germs, however, form poisons called toxins, which are absorbed into the blood and cause the dull feeling, headache and other symptoms of sickness."

Where the erudite Doctor of Public Health picks up such a quaint notion I can scarcely imagine unless perhaps he found it in an old almanac or the back pages of a movie magazine. Certainly there is no scientific basis for any such absurd assumption, and it is a shame that such balderdash should be taught school children in the name of "Health."

Inspired with the fluent flow of original thought, the professor pours out another dose of his soothing syrup.

"Most disease germs do more than this. They find their way through the walls of the nose or throat or alimentary canal, for instance, into the blood stream itself, and grow and multiply in the blood or in the organs of the body."

Now that is infection. Not until the germs have penetrated or invaded the tissues has infection occurred does the individual experience any symptoms of sickness. Infection and infectious disease are synonymous terms. Disease germs may enter the nose or throat or the stomach or intestine, but they never cause any "dull feeling or headache or other symptoms of sickness" as long as they remain there. This is no mere technical distinction, but one of the greatest practical importance, and the teacher who fails to make this distinction clear when he attempts to impart to pupils a fair knowledge of germ diseases for their own welfare, does wrong to attempt to deal with a subject beyond his depth.

The doctor of public health next discusses "The Common Cold as a Type of Communicable Disease," and gets off the same old humdrum about exposure, of course, but let him ball it up in his own words:

"There are three or four kinds of germs that cause colds. Whenever any one 'catches a cold' it is because some of these germs have entered his nose or throat and begun to grow there."

That is putting it very mildly indeed. But now for the balderdash:

"A cold often begins just after one has been chilled, or has had wet feet."

Will the reader kindly insert a few curs' words here and assume that I said 'em—about the inevitable wet feet—

"...or has become overtired. The healthy body can defend itself against the germs of a cold, and such germs may be present in the nose and throat a long time without causing any trouble."

That last assertion is true. Of course the healthy body or the natural defenses against germs have nothing to do with that. The natural defenses come into action only after the germs have invaded the tissues, never when they are merely sojourning in the cavity of nose or throat. Any real doctor could have explained that to the prolific professor—this textbook I'm enjoying is only one of a series by the same author. And now let the professor speak his last line and retire.

"But after a chill the body is weakened so that microbes (bacteria, you understand, in the nose or throat) begin to grow and the real cold develops."

This here now real cold being, obviously different from the hypothetical or imaginary cold, or something like that.

Anyway, won't the school children be the wiser when they have learned their "Healthy Living" lessons thoroughly?

SHORT CUTS
"We're beginning to see daylight," says Cy Tizen in speaking about these new streets the people want opened. "It isn't streets; it's fairways for these golfers. Opening E. Newberry-st at the upper end will give a short cut from the First ward over Lawe-st bridge to Riverview Country club. The diagonal street from College-ave to the junction along the railroad track would give a short cut to Winnebageland and Butte des Morts Golf club. Now if Alderman Smith doesn't put up too many hazards, perhaps they'll tee off that way some day."

Two farmers who were taking in the poultry show in the armory here, were discussing changed conditions on the farm. The difference, said one, is that where a farmer formerly got up early in the morning to feed the chickens, his son now stays up all night feeding them.

This is a cruel world. Every once in a while some notorious person whose picturesque personality furnishes loads of material for column writers lies down and dies, thereby cutting off the source of supply. We cannot just about the dead, you know. Lenin died, Bryan died and now Siki is gone. But let us cheer up. Volstead, Rabe Ruth and Red Grange are still with us.

KAUKAUNA WINS FROM GREEN BAY IN GREAT GAME

Spartanmen Open Basketball Season with 9 to 5 Victory
Before Record Crowd.

Kaukauna—Displaying some of the finest basketball ever seen in Kaukauna, the Spartans defeated the Green Bay boys in a great game. The game was played during the entire game, and the teams belonged to the Kaukauna boys from the first jump. Kaukauna boys displayed a little nervousness during the game but the fine team work, the dribbling and speed made them victors.

The lineup: Kaukauna—Rond, C. McFadden, K. Kiles, H. Farwell, C. Rasmussen, West, Green Bay—Ruhman and Quinn, C. Olenow, H. Gass, Hansen and Herber, H. Rasmussen and Rasmussen, H. Rasmussen.

Green Bay started the scoring with a free throw by Herber. Rond followed shortly with one free throw in two tries and tied the score. The game was fast especially on the part of the Kaukauna guards, Farwell and Gass. The Green Bay team could not get long shots at the basket. Kiles made the first marker with a basket from the center of the floor. A free throw gave Green Bay a chance at a point which was missed. Herber following in showed the ball in for a basket after the attempt at a free throw.

The Green Bay boys were much taller than the Kaukauna but were unable to use the advantage because the Spartans were so fast. Rond got the jump on the Bay center practically every time. Farwell made a free throw and again put Kaukauna in the lead, 4 to 3.

Farwell made another free throw and the score was 5 to 3. A double foul was called and the ball was put into play at the Green Bay goal after both Rond and Hansen had missed. The excellent defense work of Farwell stopped a good play by the Bay men for a basket. Green Bay worked the ball down to their territory, after an attempted free throw by Rond, by passing the ball with four shots across the hall. They missed the chance for a basket however.

Gonyo took the ball after the play and made a basket from past the center of the floor. It was a pretty shot. A foul was called on Farwell, but Rasmussen missed. Gonyo broke up a Bay attack and dribbled the ball in the Kaukauna basket for another basket. A short time later Herber made a free throw on Rond's foul and the score was 9 to 5. The game ended with the Kaukauna team going strong.

The largest crowd that ever saw a basketball game in Kaukauna witnessed the battle. About 150 people were in the hall. A delegation of about 30 West Green Bay rooters accompanied the team.

In the preliminaries the West Green Bay squad defeated the Kaukauna squad 18 to 7. The Kaukauna men were outplayed, outwitted and outcoached.

MUNICIPAL RINKS ARE OPEN TO SKATERS

Kaukauna—Municipal skating rinks at Nicolet and Park school grounds were opened for the children on Friday afternoon. The ice is in fine condition after four days and nights of work on them. The rinks will be closed each week and will thus be kept in fine condition.

The Park school rink seems more popular as the larger crowds flock there. Large flood lights are used to light the rinks at night and they usually are kept lighted until 10 o'clock. On Friday night all skaters were made to leave the rinks at 9:30 and workmen spent the rest of the night flooding the ice and putting it in fine condition.

According to Henry Esler, Kaukauna again will have a hockey team in the Fox River country and first practice will be held Sunday afternoon. Last year the Kaukauna team was not very successful so far as winning game is concerned, but the skaters are determined to put the Electric city on the map this year.

OUTLINE PROGRAM FOR PAVING NEXT YEAR

Kaukauna—Kaukauna will have several streets next year, according to program. The small strip of road between the Kaukauna creek bridge and the car tracks will be paved to complete a stretch of pavement that runs to the city limits. This will give motorists their choice of traveling through the business section of the city or around it on paved streets.

NEW WAUPACA SKATING CLUB REVIVES SPORT

Hundred Members Are Signed to Date—Hockey Will Be Chief Activity.

Waupaca—Waupaca has revived an old sport in an organized form and skaters had with delight a new organization to be known as Waupaca Skating club. The purpose is to promote the sport for all classes and ages. Plans are being rapidly formulated whereby the club will be in active operation during the holiday week. A season membership fee of 75 cents for students and $1 for others will be charged and a canvass for member is meeting with hearty responses. Nearly 100 have already signed up. Hockey is to be the chief activity and it is expected that the city may be represented by a strong team which will meet quintets of other cities. The rink on Miller lake will be lighted by the city and the hours are to be arranged so there will be plenty of time for pleasure skating.

A most exciting game of basketball was played at the local high school gymnasium Thursday evening. Weyauwega high school five defeated the local high by a final score that required five overtime periods to decide. Waupaca got away to a good start leading at the quarter by a margin of 9 to 2, but at the beginning of the second quarter several changes were made in the Waupaca lineup which resulted in the turning point of the game. From then on the battle raged fierce and was anybody's game up to the finish. All members of both teams played good ball. Lea and Cornick played brilliantly for Waupaca, while Green and Bowers starred for the visitors.

Five brothers, Richard Nichols, Sheboygan Falls, Frank, Baker, Mont. Irwin, Kenosha, Edwards and Ernest, Oshkosh, and a nephew, Willard Wagner, Rhinelander, acted as bearers. Mrs. Arters (Genie M. Nichols) was born in Hingham, March 14, 1864, and died at the family home in this city at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening. Death came following an illness of two months' duration from erysipelas. She is survived by one son, Lorenzo L. Arters and her widow, Lemuel J. Arters; a sister, Elizabeth, who has made her home with the family for 25 years, and five brothers who acted as the bearers.

The decedent was a lifelong member of the Methodist church. Out-of-town persons who attended the services were: Mrs. and Mrs. Willard Wagner, Rhinelander; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hall, Rio; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Wagner and Mrs. Roy Nichols, Rhinelander; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nichols, Baker, Mont.

"LOVE GAMBLE" IS STRIKING

Based on the popular "Peggy, From Beacon Hill," by Mayne Greig, a young Australian newspaper woman,
"The Love Gamble" at the New Bijou Theatre Monday and Tuesday.
It is a picture of Bohemian life on Beacon Hill, the literary and artistic tendons of Boston. Lillian Rich plays the lead, with Robert Frazer, Pauline Garon, James Marcus and Arthur Rankin in support.
The narrative tells of a girl who loved a married man, unknown to him, while seeking a business career. There are thrilling complications and the relations are within the limits of ordinary reason. The picture is notable for its lack of hocumb and its truth to the facts of life on Beacon Hill.
The principals are given excellent support by a talented cast and the story, interesting as a novel, is improved in visualizations on the screen.

A DRAMA OF WIVES OF NO IMPORTANCE

The problem of wives who have ceased to be of any importance in their husbands' lives is faced in "The Wife Who Wasn't Wanted," the Warner Bros. Classic of the Screen which is showing at the Elite Theatre today and Sunday.
This story of Gertrude Wentworth James, his wife, is one of its most conspicuous instances, that of the wife of an ailing politician. In this case he is an ambitious District Attorney who finds the demands of his office so great that he is compelled to ignore the demands of his home, and finally to cease to care about them. How home and politics are swept together into a web of adventurous intrigue makes for a thrilling, dramatic entertainment, according to all reports.

Work of Ridding County of Tubercular Cattle Will Be Started Soon

Testing for eradication of a virulent tuberculosis in cattle will be started the first week of this month, R. A. Amundson, county agent, announced Friday.

Mr. Amundson has received a letter from Dr. R. B. Smith, who is conducting the work, to the effect that tests of herds in Shawano will have been completed and that the results will be in by this time of the year between Christmas and New Year. This is the first week in January.

From 1 to 10 men will make the test, according to Mr. Amundson. Several months will be required to complete the test in the county.

The action taken for the test, which was signed by more than 60 percent of the farmers, was filed with the Wisconsin department of agriculture Nov. 1, 1925. The hearing on the petition was held Friday, Aug. 14, 1925, at the courthouse.

NO SHUTDOWN IN INDUSTRY HERE

Mills Can't Absorb Surplus of Common Labor Due to Building Cessation

Although there is not an industrial shutdown in Appleton and all a going full time except the very few companies there is a surplus of common labor, a surplus of employment made by the chamber of commerce shows. Absence of business and outside work is one of the conditions.

Industries are capable of absorbing a few men here and there, but not enough to give over half employment. To all men are given the preference when jobs are available. The machine shops and wooden mills are reported to be adding a few employees but the others are running about the normal crew.

A healthy condition is seen in the fact that there is no shutdown and no reduction of hours. This situation is considered by the chamber of commerce as a sign of a healthy condition. The foundation of the city is being improved by papermills and this condition is curtailing production of the Appleton mills so that they are running on a part time basis.

Normal labor conditions are going on at this time also the report shows.

ASK INDUSTRIES TO FILE CENSUS

Chamber of Commerce Asks Early Response on Federal Production Checkup.

Manufacturers of Appleton and vicinity have received letter from the chamber of commerce asking an early report to the United States bureau of census on the production during the year 1925 in each industry. Planks will reach each plant before Jan. 1 and are to be sent to Washington as soon as possible.

Importance of completing the census report is stressed in the letter. It points out that the information not only will be of service to each industry concerned but that the government will have a record of manufacturing. The checkup is made annually with the 1925 production as the basis.

Appleton Chamber of Commerce has been deputized to assist in obtaining the census figures from those industries which do not respond. All plants with products of a gross value of $5,000 or more are asked to file reports. Accurate information is wanted so it will not be necessary for the government to write for correction for further data.

CITY SNOWPLOW WILL BE SHIPPED AT ONCE

Two new snowplows of the nose type which the city council has ordered purchased will be delivered here in time for use when the first heavy snows arrive. Mayor John Goodland believes they were bought in Milwaukee at a price of $200 each and immediate shipment has been requested.

These plows are readily attachable to any motor truck and provide a convenient way of opening up the street for traffic storms. They are expected to do faster work than the graders formerly used.

NOISY WELCOME FOR VISITORS AT POULTRY EXHIBIT

Prize Winning Roosters Combine to Let World Know That Show Is On.

About 100 farmers "alarm clocks" have been ringing for the last three days in Armory G. and will continue to "sound off until" 6 o'clock Sunday evening. The only winding these "timepieces" need is plenty of food, and the alarm they sound is a "goodie a goodie doo." Yes, the annual show of the Fox River Poultry and Pet Stock association is in full swing and judging from the noise the principal actors and actresses want everyone to know it.

Contrary to the usual custom, the females of the species in the poultry world are quiet and subdued and it is their masculine friends and relatives who do the talking and crowing. It seems to be the object of every rooster in the armory to outcrow every other rooster, and the volume of sound and noise indicates that each is succeeding in his purpose. Only the frenzied cackling of a hen, who wants to tell the world she has succeeded in laying an egg can be heard above the din of the bragging roosters.

Chickens of every description are being exhibited by poultry raisers throughout the state and one exhibit of barred Plymouth Rock chickens was sent from the Truetttype farm near Seattle, Wash.

The white, black, and buff Leghorns, and Wyandottes, black, white, and barred Plymouth Rocks are the most common exhibits, but there are also many Golden Wyandottes, Rhode Island Reds, Brahmans, Anconas, Gold-Island Sebrights, white, and black bantams, and Orpingtons. That all the birds are exceptional specimens of what chickens should be is evidenced not only by their clean and healthy appearance but by the many blue and red tags placed on a great number of cages indicating a large number of first and second prizes.

One of the most interesting exhibits at the show is a large cage of quail, small doves and pigeons being displayed by Alex Burchard of Menasha. The doves are a foreign variety and are much smaller than the common American kind. About 75 doves and pouter pigeons from the Braebourne pigeon loft in Green Bay also are on display. The pouter pigeon is slightly larger than a full grown bantam chicken, and has a neck which is swelled out in front like a small rubber ball, giving to the bird a very pompous and dignified air. Voecks brothers of this city have a display of all kinds of poultry including chickens, ducks and different varieties of pigeons. There is one huge turkey gobbler at the show but he is too much awed by the presence of so many roosters, and the uproar they make to do much gobbling. Other exhibits are two rabbits and two beautiful black angora cats and a display of white poodle dogs. These animals sit quietly with a bewildered look on their faces, probably feeling very much out of place, and wondering what there is to crow about. The show will continue until 6 o'clock Sunday evening.

RIPARIAN CLAIMS FOR DAMAGES ARE OUTLAWED

Riparian owners of the Fox and Wolf river valleys will not be able to realize claims of $1,000,000 for losses incurred by floods, for the present at least, because these claims have been outlawed by an act passed by congress in 1887. This is the report of Mayor R. D. Haentze of Fond du Lac, who has recently returned to Wisconsin from a conference in Washington, D. C. with the rivers and harbor board, the chief engineer of the war department and the advocate general on the subject of flood relief and damage claims. The claims of riparian owners cannot be presented until congress has passed an additional enabling act, Mayor Haentze said.

The appeal of the Association for the Relief of High Water, for a survey with a view of giving flood relief in this section of the state was taken under advisement by government officials. Representatives of the relief association, with Mayor Haentze, were Attorney George Williams and Pres-

TALKING DOLL PUT JOHN IN BAD ON ROUTE

Residents along route 2, Appleton, are losing confidence in their mail carrier, John Freude. Heretofore, according to all reports John has been a faithful mailman especially in cooperating with parents during the holiday season when the task of keeping presents hidden from children causes mothers many sleepless nights.

Up until this week John enjoyed the confidence of all his patrons. He even helped parents plan their Christmas celebrations. Such is not the case any more however, following an incident which befell John a few days ago.

A certain mother along this route had ordered a beautiful talking doll for her small daughter. Wednesday the doll went out in John's mail bag with the rest of the mail. When he arrived at this particular home, the daughter accompanied her mother to meet the mailman.

Perhaps the mother should have kept her daughter in the house. Perhaps John, who was carrying an unusually large mail bag that day, was overly worried. At any rate, the worst happened.

As John was giving the mother the mail, he carelessly placed the doll down. At the same time pressing it a little harder than he realized. The inevitable happened. The talking doll spoke, the girl clapped her hands in glee and immediately demanded the Christmas present from her mother, and a disappointed mother sent the mailman on his way.

Although John has vowed to use the utmost caution in the future, he is finding considerable difficulty in replacing himself in the good graces of his patrons.

POLICE HOT ON TRAIL OF BOLD WOMAN FORGER

Attractive Girl Fails in Effort to Mulct Store but Eludes Police.

The attempt of a young woman to pass a bogus check at the Pettibone-Peabody Co., Friday afternoon was defeated by the alertness of a saleslady, and police have redoubled their efforts to apprehend the girl, who is thought to be the same one who has been operating in the Fox river valley the last two or three weeks.

The woman entered the store about 4:15 and tendered a check of $14.50 in payment for a small purchase which she made. The check was drawn on the Appleton State bank, was made out to the Pettibone-Peabody Co., and was signed by Margaret Guage, who gave her address as Russell Sage.

The saleslady became suspicious of the check and took it to J. D. Steele, manager of the store, who advised that they refuse to cash it. When the saleslady returned to her customer, the latter had disappeared. The police were immediately called but the girl had eluded them.

She is described as being from 18 to 20 years of age, five feet six or seven inches in height, and of a slim build. She has a light complexion, light hair and a round face, and wore a muskrat coat and a small black hat. This is the same description of the woman who passed several checks in Neenah early in the week, according to the police.

Appleton merchants are warned by the police to use utmost caution in cashing checks for strangers and especially for any woman who answers the above description. The woman is thought to be a member of a notorious Chicago gang, and was only recently released from jail there.

Charles Maloney will open a Charleston contest Saturday at Cinderella ballroom. It will continue for four weeks and will be open to all dancers. It is expected that a number of couples who have been learning this new dance will enroll their names and try for the Charleston championship.

CHICAGO MILK COMPANY BUYS NICHOLS PLANT

Milk from Tested Cattle Will Be Sent to Chicago Consumers in Glass Lined Cans.

With the purchase of the Our Way Canning Co. at Nichols by the Murphy-Ward Dairy Co. of Chicago, Outagamie-co milk producers will have a new market for their product. The deal was completed this week by A. L. Nichols, owner of the canning company, and representatives of the Chicago firm.

The building will be converted into a receiving station from which 50,000 pounds of milk will be shipped to Chicago daily. The product will be gathered from a radius of about 10 miles around Nichols. Shipments of milk will start shortly after the first of the year.

It is the intention of the dairy company to purchase 100,000 pounds of milk in the county daily. A suitable location for a second receiving station now is being sought.

The company's representatives who are here this week are J. J. Ward, Jr., John J. Murphy, Ed. L. Keenick and George Frank. The company operates 100 retail milk wagons in Chicago and conducts a large wholesale business with hotels and restaurants. It has been established 35 years and does an annual business of $3,000,000.

It has operated a receiving station at Oconto for the last five years and has similar plants at St. Charles and Clover, Ill. If a second plant is established in this county, the firm will handle more than 200,000 pounds of milk daily at Chicago.

This is the first Chicago dairy company to turn to Outagamie-co for the purchase of milk on a large scale. It was attracted here because of the fact that the county is about to be tested for the eradication of bovine tuberculosis.

"The time is not distant when only milk from clean herds will be sold in Chicago," said Mr. Ward. "We choose Outagamie-co not only because it is a large dairy county but because you are about to clean up your herds."

All shipments of milk will be made in glass lined tank cars. One carload will be sent out from the Nichols plant daily, the car leaving Nichols about 1 o'clock in the afternoon and arriving at Chicago at 1 o'clock the following morning.

will be installed in the receiving station immediately. A price higher than the prevailing one will be paid farmers for their product, according to Mr. Ward.

That several hundred thousand pounds of milk will be shipped out of this county daily in the near future is the prediction of R. A. Amundson, county agent.

He declared it was fortunate the farmers petitioned for the area test when they did, as it enables them to offer a clean product sooner than the majority of counties south of us can.

HEED WARNING TO SEND HOLIDAY PARCELS EARLY

People are cooperating better this year in making early Christmas express shipments than in any previous year, according to William N. Kimball, local agent for the American Railway Express Co. Although the company has parcels early has been carried on the express company for many years, it had met with little success prior to 1925. Twelve or fifteen years ago express employes often worked until 12 or 1 o'clock every night during Christmas week to take care of the immense volume of shipments which swamped the office.

But now people are realizing that it is to their own best interest to make shipments early, as they are sure to be delivered before Christmas day, whereas packages and parcels coming in the last day or two before the holiday sometimes are held over because of the great amount of work piled up.

$200 LICENSE TO OLD BRIDGE MAY BE COLLECTED FOR EACH MOTOR BUS GO IN 4TH WARD

Suggest Moving Parts of Old Structure Across Slough in New Section of City.

Neenah — If the iron bridge crossing the Fox river, which soon is to be torn down to be replaced by a cement structure, is not to be erected as a permanent bridge, parts of it may be used to connect proposed streets across the slough in Fourth ward. It was suggested by Alderman Laurson at Friday evening's meeting of the council. The time is not far off when the west side of the slough is to be replatted and will be the permanent route of highway 115 connecting route 15 with Appleton, it was said. This will call for streets connecting the east bank of the slough to the west bank and a bridge will be needed. Several aldermen were not in favor of putting up the old structure in the city's finest residential district and opposite its park.

Arrangements have been made to store the iron structure along the bank of the river until a use for it can be found.

NEENAH SOCIETY

A party of 50 was entertained Thursday afternoon at Valley Inn by Mrs. W. A. Rike and Mrs. William Dowling. Luncheon was served at 1 o'clock after which the time was spent in playing bridge. Prizes were won by Mrs. Frank Poplinski, Mrs. Frank Oberweiser, Mrs. Charles Schultz and Mrs. Albert Melation. Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. J. Armstrong of Kansas City, and Mrs. Charles Robertson of Valley City, N. D.

The annual Christmas party given by Women's Relief Corps of Neenah, will be held Saturday evening in S. A. Cook armory. A 6 o'clock dinner will be served after which a Christmas program will be rendered.

Seventy-five young people, members of Trinity Lutheran choir of Neenah and St. Paul Lutheran choir of Appleton, gathered in Trinity parish house Friday evening for the annual Christmas party given by the local singers. The evening was spent in a general social manner.

NEENAH NOW HAS TWO JUSTICES OF PEACE

Neenah—The appointment of Gene W. Barto as justice of the peace, at Friday evening's meeting of city council, fills an office which has been vacant since last election. George Christoph was elected as justice last spring but owing to other business could not take the office. The city took no action to provide for the second officer which is required by law until Friday evening, when it was found that Justice Baldwin was crowded with business and another judge is necessary. Mr. Barto is a young lawyer and was recommended by George Kelly, city attorney.

COST OF HEATING HOME WITH OIL NO MORE THAN COAL

J. A. Engel Installs Economical Heating Plant in Appleton Homes.

Oil burners, which are rapidly becoming the most popular heating device because of their cleanliness and simplicity of operation were first sold in Appleton by J. A. Engel, 514 N. Oneida-st., agent for the Kleen Heet oil burner for homes and the Winslow industrial burner for manufacturing plants and larger buildings. About 25 Kleen Heet burners have been installed in Appleton, Neenah and Measha residences, and not one has been taken out because it failed to give satisfaction. Winslow industrial burners have been installed in the new Methodist church, and three have been purchased by the St. Joseph congregation. Kleen Heet burners are of three types, the Junior which drains its oil from an inside storage tank, the gas pilot type, which draws its oil directly from an outside storage tank, and the electric ignition burner, which draws oil from an outside storage tank and gets its ignition from an electric spark.

The cost of heating a house with a Kleen Heet burner is no more than heating with hard coal. In the Winslow industrial burners, a heavier and cheaper grade of oil is used so that the expense involved in heating a large building is practically the same as it would be if soft coal were used. The Junior is one of the most popular burners and easily fits into the heating plant of any home. The furnace remains just as it is with the exception that the grate is removed and the Junior put into its place. It is then connected with the thermostat in the living room or parlor and to the oil storage tank in the basement. With the Junior it is customary to install a 50 gallon storage tank.

The Junior has but one moving unit, the motor fan which quietly delivers the proper amount of air to the scientifically constructed fire pot. The flow of oil is controlled by the patented Winslow automatic magnetic valve which operates in conjunction with the motor fan unit. This valve allows oil to flow into the fire pot only when the motor fan unit is in operation.

NO LET-UP IN DEMAND FOR SOFTWOOD LUMBER

Despite the lateness of the season, the larger softwood mills have been shipping and receiving orders for more than their production. Continuation of good demand, it is pointed out by the American Lumberman, Chicago, is the result of close buying policy that has been followed by retail yards and industrial all season, and it is probable that sales will continue larger than their normal winter volume. During the week ended Dec. 5, three hundred thirty-two mills shipped nine percent more than they produced and thus further depleted their stocks, while orders booked were two percent above the output.

Better weather has aided southern pine loggers, and with increased log input there has been an improvement in production. Output of the larger southern pine mills, however, remained close to fifteen percent below normal. Shipments were almost ten percent above the output, and orders were seven percent above it. Northern and eastern markets continue rather inactive, but building activity in the South and especially in Florida is consuming large amounts. During the week there were some advances in quotations on common items.

The fir mills during the week ended Dec. 5 shipped eight percent more than their cut. Orders amounted to ninety-seven percent of the cut. Cargo trade, both domestic and foreign, showed some falling off. California trade is only fair, and probably the Atlantic coast will buy conservatively until after year-end inventories. The same tendency to hold off is noted in the middle West rail market. Florida is becoming an increasingly important taker of fir. Late reports indicate that the usual holiday shutdown of logging camps and mills will be extended, and the curtailment in supply is expected to firm up the market for spring trade.

Southern hardwood production rose to 71 percent of normal as a result of weather improvement permitting some logging to be done. Shipments were 107 percent of the same mark, and new bookings were 97 percent of normal production. It is not expected that output will catch up on demand until around the beginning of May. Quotations have steadied but of course remain very firm. Northern hardwoods are in a much stronger position than earlier in the season, the year's surplus of production over shipments having been reduced from sixty-nine to thirty million feet in the last twenty weeks. Business in northern woods is good and prices are firm.

Drop In Radio Stocks Is Lesson To Businessmen

Babson Park, Mass. — Roger W. Babson today discussed with us the fundamentals of the radio industry. He brings out its tremendous growth and what this growth has brought about. His official statement to us is as follows:

TWO KINDS OF RADIO BUSINESS
"When discussing radio, it should be remembered that there are two distinct divisions to the industry. The first division—that for which it was originally started—was to carry wireless messages. The first commercial use was to transmit messages from one ship to another and from ships to the land. The business was founded and grew on this sole purpose. Gradually radio was used to transmit messages across the land as well as the ocean. Finally great sending sets were erected in America, Europe and even Japan. The Radio Corporation of America was founded primarily to not exclusively, to transmit messages. Before the Radio Corporation was formed, various small independent companies were carrying on independent business. The United Fruit Company had valuable patents as well as did the General Electric and Westinghouse. All of these were pooled together when the Radio Corporation of America was formed, the purpose being to stop destructive competition, useless fighting with one another over patents and to use the combined resources to erect great super-power sending stations throughout the world and thus give efficient radio service.

"This great Corporation had hardly been formed when radio broadcasting started. Even at the first, the officials of the Radio Corporation looked upon the selling of home receiving sets as merely a by-product and expected to pay dividends on their stocks from the message business alone. They were taken by surprise. The interest in radio swept this country like a great tidal wave. The demand for receiving sets exceeded the most optimistic prophecies. Manufacturers were unable to supply orders. Almost overnight a great new industry developed in this country, which is attracting as much attention as the moving picture industry or the automobile industry. Instead of the manufacture of receiving sets being a by-product, it became the big end of the business and the original purpose of the radio industry; namely, the sending of messages, was submerged and has been almost forgotten. This is a very interesting illustration of the great change in business which came onto the country unheralded and which are anticipated only by a few careful students. Moreover, we must not forget that something else may happen during the next few years which will be as revolutionary as the radio.

GROWTH TOO RAPID
"In January 1, 1922, there were only six radio companies of any importance. Today there are about six hundred companies, producing sets and supplies, each doing a large business. In January 1922, only two radio stocks were traded in by the brokers in New York, while today there are twenty radio stocks actively traded in on Wall Street. Moreover, most of these radio companies have a lot of money or rather, did make a lot of money, at the start. Statistics show that the manufacture of receiving sets was exceedingly profitable in the early days. The industry was a self-sustaining industry, hence it had to spend no money in interesting people and in getting a foothold. The demand for receiving sets exceeded the supply and it was unnecessary to spend any money on selling. Even price was more or less insignificant. The sets were sold at huge profit. These great profits, however, brought on their own punishment. Any industry which effects great profits in proportion to the risk inevitably brings on itself a period of severe competition. Gradually the supply of receiving sets is exceeding the demand. This means that the radio companies are now forced to spend more money on advertising, and for other expenses than they did before.

"One of the strong features of the radio message business is its repeat nature. When the Radio Corporation gets a newspaper or business house, or even an individual into the habit of sending radiograms, it develops a repeat business. This repeat business compares with the sale of electricity for light and power. The supplying of electricity for use day by day, is a much more stable business than the manufacture of electric apparatus for which one makes only one sale. Hence, the radio message business was founded on a right principle and some day patient investors in the stock of the Radio Corporation will be richly rewarded.

"The sale of receiving sets, however, is not a repeat business, any more than is the furniture business, or the electric fixture business. It does not even compare with the phonograph business because the phonograph people are able to sell records each month and it is these records that really make profits for them. Of course, it is necessary to buy new tubes once in a while and as sets are being improved, those who can afford to do so, buy the newer sets as they come out. The fact that the sale of sets is not a repeat business brings the present dullness in the industry, with the decline in profits and securities.

LESSONS FOR BUSINESS MEN
"What has happened in the radio industry should be of interest to every business man, whatever his line of work. The same principles apply to every industry. All new industries have gone through these same stages and all new industries will go up and down correspondingly. Every line has its turning. The wheels of opportunity revolve slowly but are always revolving. The business which today has the largest profits will tomorrow face the greatest competition and next day have the smallest profits of all. Conversely the business which today has the smallest profits will tomorrow have the least competition and the day after may have the greatest profits. The time to save money is when you are making it. The good old days never last any more than hard times ever last. Hence, the importance of studying fundamental conditions and watching the great tidal movements of business, rather than the temporary movements concerning which most business men do all their worrying.

"Every new industry seems obliged to go through a house cleaning period before it settles down. If you can get into a new industry before the other fellow, all well and good; but don't be a trailer. Either blaze the trail yourself or else work in a settled line where the speculative features have been eliminated. The man who is always chasing rainbows never catches one. I repeat, it is a fine thing to blaze new trails and do something before others are doing it, but there is nothing in doing what everyone else is doing, going where everybody else is going, or getting into a business into which everybody else is getting in.

FUTURE OUTLOOK
"The radio industry is all right. It is now going through the same adjustment that the automobile industry went through some years ago when so many new companies went into receivership and even the General Motors Company was forced to reorganize. Many companies will now be forced out of business, other companies will be consolidated while others will reorganize. Gradually the ending of messages will increase and be the great source of income for the Radio Corporation of America. The radio industry is all right for the long haul but just now it is suffering from keen competition and the present period must be followed by a general house cleaning, after which the surviving companies will make a lot of money. Of course, certain improvements and new inventions may develop in radio and thus give it another great spurt. The most likely other development of Vision Broadcast, that is, the broadcasting of moving pictures.

"When in Washington a few weeks ago, I visited the Jenkins' Laboratories and saw the movements of a windmill actually broadcasted and transmitted by radio. These were packed up and shown on a screen. It is just as possible to broadcast moving pictures as it is the voice. The Radio Corporation of America is working on a still different method from the Jenkins' method to bring about the same results. Without doubt, radio broadcasting will some day be an accomplished fact and we can read the morning paper on a screen at our breakfast table the same as we now hear our evening music on the loudspeaker in our library. Furthermore, there are other radio inventions which are being worked out which are even more interesting than the broadcasting of moving pictures. The Babsonchart now shows business 17 per cent above normal compared with just normal a year ago this time.

PARROT PAT AT 70 IN LINE FOR HERO MEDAL
Denver—(P)—"Pat" Callahan, 70-year-old parrot, has viewed many an exciting exploit of Western frontier history, but despite his natural prerogative he declines to relate any of his experiences.

If medals for heroism were distributed to parrots, "Pat" probably would have been eligible when, in 1875, he aided in routing a band of Indians who attacked a party of white men, one of whom was his owner. Disregarding a shower of lead, "Pat" flew over the heads of the Indians and screamed: "Give 'em hell!" His war cry, although an encouragement to the enemy, evidently disconcerted the red men. After several attempts to shoot the bird, they fled.

"Pat" lost two of his claws in another heroic act. The parrot and a canary were pets of the warden of Montana state prison. During a severe cold night the heating apparatus failed and the canary, suffering from the cold, flew about in search of a warm place. "Pat" lifted his wing and sheltered the canary. Two of "Pat's" claws were frozen off the next morning.

"Pat" was captured in Mexico in 1856 by Mr. and Mrs. Pat Callahan. Mrs. G. Floto, now his owner, said "Pat" speaks sometimes live 150 years.

ANTIQUES CAN BE DUPLICATED IN CABINET SHOP

E. H. Mueller Kept Busy Remodeling Old Furniture to Conform with Modern Styles.

It has often been said that antique pieces of furniture cannot be duplicated to any degree of success by modern cabinet makers, and that this is the reason why people prize so highly old chairs, tables and dressers. But, according to E. H. Mueller, cabinet maker, who has his shop at 313 E. Washington-st., the real reason that old furniture is cherished so highly is only because of its age, as it is possible to reproduce almost exactly in modern up-to-date cabinet shop practically any furniture antique. Along with age there is usually a strong sentiment connected with old pieces of furniture because they have been a family for generations, and a very ordinary chair which would not be worth more than a dollar or two to an outsider is a treasured possession to the owner because his great great grandfather used it.

New furniture is manufactured and old furniture is rebuilt and repaired at the Mueller shop. Mr. Mueller has been in the cabinet business for 16 years, and has been in his present shop for five years. Many people bring their old fashioned furniture to the shop to have it remodeled along more modern lines. The fact that houses are now being rebuilt with much lower ceilings than are found in the older residences makes it necessary for many people have their old fashioned high beds cut down to conform with the general appearance and style of the low ceiling room.

The predominant color of old pieces of furniture was a light yellow or brown, and a great deal of work is done at the Mueller shop in staining and refinishing old furniture in the popular dark shades of today. Many persons have a great number of antiques characterized by a wealth of fancy carving, much of which is cheap work and of no particular value. The modern furniture has a plainer finish and lacks the carved ornamentation of the sets popular in former years. Many chairs, tables, buffets, dressers, and beds are brought to the Mueller shop to have their fancy carved designs removed and a plainer finish substituted. Carving is valuable only when it is a good job done by hand, according to Mr. Mueller. Much of the fancy design so common on old time furniture of the cheaper grade is done by machine and is of little value.

The Mueller cabinet shop also makes a specialty of crating furniture for long shipments.

FIND ROMAN BEGGARS ARE WEALTHY PERSONS

Rome—(P)—The police have found that many of the poorest and most pathetic appearing street beggars are some of the city's most opulent citizens behind the walls of their homes.

One of these aged mendicants was searched and his pockets shown to contain about $30 as one day's receipts. Another beggar was found to be a proprietor of dwelling houses, another an owner of a lively stable that housed several horses and carriages, a third was a professional money lender at usurious rates, and a fourth was a frequenter of one of the capital's most expensive restaurants in the evenings.

Cesare Sanesi, pale and miserably dressed in tatters, died suddenly on the street of heart failure. His body was gathered up unceremoniously by carabines and buried in the public cemetery for the destitute. It was later learned that Sanesi was a member of one of the most noble of Florentine families, and that he bore the authentic title of count.

Adventures Of The Twins

By Ben

Tack Tack and the Twins worked the leavers, fixed up all the poor broken clock. "There wasn't much of the night left when Tack Tack said, 'Well, children, that's about it now. But there are some wonderful big clocks in the world I should like you to see before I take you home to bed. I think the Fairy Queen would like to have you go now.'"

"Good!" cried Nick. "I'm not a bird. These magic shoes are wonderful!"

"I'm not tired, either," said Nancy. "Where shall we go first?"

"I think we'll go to London to see Big Ben," said Tack Tack.

"Big Ben! Does he have a clock?" asked Nick.

"Big Ben is the clock," said the little fairy. "He lives up on top of the big tower of the Parliament buildings. Parliament is like our Capitol Building at Washington. Because it's the place the laws are made for England. Well, that's where Big Ben lives. And when he strikes the hour all London can hear."

"The Ben gets his home from the biggest bell which is called Big Ben. All the bells in the clock have names—most big bells go 'tong' you know."

"When may we start?" asked Nick impatiently, doing a little dance.

"Right now," said the Good Fairy. "Make a wish and your magic shoes will do the rest."

"Twelve! Whizz! Whizz!"

Suddenly the Twins found themselves in a corner out of park with a high tower beside them. Before them was a high tower with a clock near the top, whose biggest friendly face looked out over the world as much as to say, "I'm always here. You may depend on me. I keep GOING GOING GOING."

"My goodness. It's three o'clock," said Tack Tack. "We must hurry. We can go inside and get our clock stairs. That will take us right up inside the clock itself."

"We can see Big Ben from here all right," said Nick.

"So you can, but you don't know how big he really is, until you get near him. How big does he look to you?"

"About as big as the moon," said Nancy.

"About as big as the moon!" said Nick.

"They went inside the building where the tower was and started to climb. When they got up about thirty steps, they found a door and sixty to be exact, they entered a big room full of works and machines.

"Well, this is it," said Tack Tack.

"What?" said Nick in a puzzled way.

"The clock. These are the works of the clock. Come, we'll go through this room a passage and I'll take you right behind the clock's big face, the part you saw from the street."

And so he led the way, the Twins following.

"Now how about the moon and the umbrella?" laughed Tack Tack.

"Oh, ho! We shall see," said Tack Tack. "Come on."

But the Twins had lost their voices. The big dial was so enormous that you could have piled eight Nancys on top of each other, standing on a heap, and just make it, Big Ben's face was over twenty-four feet across. The long minute hand alone was fourteen feet long as it stuck out beyond the edge of the clock's face.

"For goodness sake!" said the

LETTER FROM LESLIE PRESCOTT TO THE LITTLE MARQUISE—CONTINUED

We had hardly got inside our car when Jack broke out:

"I'm not going to that luncheon with that damned ead tomorrow. Syd, and you know it. So why did you say that you will pick me up? You know he makes love to all the women in the world, and he can do this for all of me, but he must leave mine alone."

"Jack what are you saying?" sharply. "Are you trying to insult me before Sydine?"

Jack saw that he had made a mistake and he grumblingly continued:

"I didn't say anything about you. Leslie, I was only calling attention to the fact that Sydine is up to his old tricks again."

"Oh, perhaps that is what you were doing," I commented, perfectly furious, "but in doing so you were also intimating that I was allowing him to play those tricks for my benefit."

"Syd, you can get from my sulky husband his plans. After what he has just said to me, I am out of it."

I sank back in the corner of the motor and said no more until I arrived home. Syd helped me out, and I can lightly up the steps. The butler opened the door.

"I wanted to give you this telegram, Mrs. Prescott," he said.

My hands trembled as I took it open. Something told me before the letters formed themselves into words that I could read: "Bee died today at twelve o'clock. Her lady is a fine healthy child. Will write to Sally and ask her to pick up the men. I could not discuss poor Bee with you at this moment. I recalled her last letter in which she expressed her fear of dying, and I had post-posted her. And now she was dead—and she had left a child."

These things always seem so unequal. We are never ready to give up those we love. There was poor Paula who had to live and suffer for a long while and she had no way to take care of her baby—in her desperate case I said to me, or rather to Jack, as this came into my mind, my thoughts went straying off on another tangent. I thought of how I had forgiven Jack for this great big thing he had done, only to find him so nastily suspicious, when I talked for a little while in private with Melville Sartoris.

Everyone will say, "Poor Bee!" said to myself, "but I think, perhaps, that after all she is better off out of it. She had begun to be rather unhappy in her married life, although I can assure the collapse came from an unformed infidelity complex."

I can tell you, Little Marquise, I never think myself inferior to any woman—at least that is how I feel now. I am as good as any other woman and I'll keep my own, no matter how many girls try to vamp Jack. I did not know what to do about going to the luncheon the next day, but I finally decided that the people who are living in this world must still go on no matter what comes.

I was glad Sally was there. She is a tower of strength in such crises.

"But what will become of the baby?" I said to myself. "I wonder if it's a boy or a girl." Then I smiled a little. It was like Sally not to mention the baby's sex.

LAWRENCE FROSH BEAT EAST GREEN BAY SQUADS

Classy Play Of Yearlings Whips Two Bay Squads By Easy 32-9 And 45-4 Counts

Work of Hilton, Courtney and Jones Features Win of Frosh Firsts Over Bay Varsity.

Coach Don Gelhardt's Lawrence college freshman cage squad put in an easy evening of practice Friday evening at Alexander gymnasium when the East Green Bay high school first and second teams were victims of a slaughter in two battles, the regular frosh team beating the Bay varsity, 32-9, and the frosh reserve coming through with a 45-4 win over the Bay seconds. East high won the valley conference title in 1924-25 and looked upon as a leading contender this year.

Admission was free and a large crowd witnessed the game, including Coach John McLaughlin and half of his 1925-26 Orange cage candidates.

The frosh firsts bewildered the Bay-men with their speedy offense and worked a five-man defense in a style which the East high boys were unable to penetrate except at rare intervals. They have picked up Coach A. C. Denny's varsity style of play much faster than any other frosh cage squad of the past and they made use of it at all times, looking like a typical Lawrence varsity team, Denny-coached, in action. Many of the boys are first team prospects with the close of the first semester and will make the regulars work to hold their jobs.

Hilton, Jones and Courtney started on the offense, showing marked shooting ability and floorwork and Hillman played a neat game at standing guard, breaking up plenty of enemy shots. Dilleit also played a nice forward game. McGuire and Zuidmuller, Bay guards transferred last week from forward and center, their regular jobs, to hold sharp-shooting enemy artillery, played the best game for the Bay. They were the only real vets on the East squad. The other three members of the first Bay five played on the second team last year.

BADGER CAGERS WHIP MARQUETTE, 42-26

Milwaukee—(P)—In a rough and tumble battle marked by much fouling the University of Wisconsin defeated Marquette University here Friday night, 42-26. The Badgers, led at the half 23 to 10, ability to find the basket on long shots in the first half gave Wisconsin an early decisive lead which Marquette was never able to overcome. Three Badgers were taken out of the game on four personal fouls.

Super-Athletes Shine In Biggest Of Pinches

BY BILLY EVANS

"Red" Grange is a super-football player, just as Babe Ruth is a rare diamond performer and Harry Greb the marvel of the ring.

The super-athletes invariably arise to the occasion in the crisis. In other words they are at their very best when the stakes are biggest.

Babe Ruth, when in his prime, had the happy faculty of delivering his home runs at the big moment. For a man in the history of the game has won more thrilling contests through the medium of a pinch home run than the Babe himself.

It may sound rather strange to speak of Ruth when in his prime since that young man is now only 22 years of age. He should now be at his very best, but several attacks of illness during the last two years have played havoc with his general condition.

Ruth was, as a matter of fact still in a "go-getter." When the Yankee Stadium baseball's greatest palace, was thrown open to New York fans, Ruth obliged with a home run, then captured that section of the country with a terrific home run clout into the right field bleachers.

With the spotlight of the sport world turned on him, Ruth is generally at his best. Super-athletes usually are.

"Red" Grange, like Babe Ruth, is not the run-of-the-mine performer, but one of those rareties in sport who bob up about once every 25 years.

Grange, by his extraordinary uncanny play against the University of Pennsylvania, stamps himself as one of the few truly great super-athletes. Grange came east was seen, then captured that section of the country by storm just as he did the middle west.

The Pennsylvania game was the big spot on the Illinois schedule. Penn was known to have a great

OSHKOSH WALLOPS RIPPON CAGE CREW

Oshkosh—Displaying splendid teamwork and coordinated play, the Oshkosh normal school caging five defeated Rippon college at Rippon Thursday night by a score of 25 to 15. Rippon took the lead and Oshkosh had a hard battle to pass the collegians. The first half was 11 to 10 in favor of Oshkosh.

FRIDAY GAME

Two Rivers 34, Fond du Lac 23.

SATURDAY GAME

APPLETON AT FOND DU LAC.

Doc Delmore's speedy Two Rivers cage squad of the Interstate Professional league edged its way into second place behind the crack Beloit Fairies and shoved the Sheboygan Chairs down to third Friday evening when the Rivermen squeezed out a thrilling 21-23 win over Fond du Lac, sole conquerors of Beloit, on the Two Rivers floor. The game had the crowd on its feet most of the way and the excitement was at red heat at all times. It took the Fondy boys a little time to get acquainted with the Two Rivers floor, but after that the game was a thriller.

The score at the half was 16-15 for Two Rivers and with two minutes to play, the Delmore boys led, 24-19. Hero Fondy started a hot rally which was cut short by the whistle with the Rivermen leading by a solitary point. Steffes, Indian star of Plymouth and the New London Edison in past years, caged three baskets for Fondy and Red Weston, Two Rivers' big star, got five field goals. He has averaged five a game since the last season.

Appleton meets Fondy tonight in an attempt to win its first loop game and has a fine chance as a result of the Co. M crew's two tough battles this week. They beat Beloit, loop leaders, 20-17, and lost to Two Rivers, second-place crew, 24-23.

KIMBERLY SQUAD WHIPS LENA IN 30-19 STRUGGLE

Shooting and Floorwork of E. W. Loop Leaders Give Them Easy Win Over Northerners.

Kimberly, shooting baskets from all parts of the floor and outplaying the strong Lena American Legion squad here Friday evening, the Kimberly-Clark Athletics, leaders in the Eastern Wisconsin Home Talent league, won their second straight victory over the invaders by a score of 30-19. The game was much better than the score indicates and a large crowd witnessed the battle.

Every man on the Kimberly regular lineup got at least one field goal and a full team of substitutes was used. Koll, shot four field goals in the final half, three of which were from midfloor and added four points to the score total in the first half on free tries. His midfloor shots were all of the sensational variety. Boettcher and Cooke added three baskets apiece to the K-C score. A Netzer starred for Lena with four baskets and three of his markers also came on long tries. The score at the half was 18-10 for Kimberly.

In a preliminary game the Kimberly Independents walloped the Little Chute American Legion squad, 16-7. Lineups for this game were: Kimberly—Pocan and Willis, forwards; Kofkins, center; Busch and Verbeten, guards. Little Chute—Vandersteen and Van Handle, forwards; Vanderloop, center. Miron and Vandenberg, guards; Moller and Wildenberg, subs.

SHORT SPORTS

George Sisler says he finds first base a tougher job than pitching and managing worse than either of the two.

Hank Severed, veteran Washington catcher, has dropped only one foul fly ball in the last 10 years of big league play.

Ernie Nevers, All-America fullback from Stanford, is to go to the New York Giants as a pitcher. Glenn Warner developed Nevers, as he did the great Jim Thorpe, who also joined the Giants.

Despite his sad experience in the 1925 world series, Roger Peckinpaugh, star shortstop of Washington, feels he is capable of three more big years in the majors.

Rumor has it that Olin Chill, chief of the American Association umpires, is to go to the National League next season. Chill, for a number of years, worked in the American League.

Unless Ray Schalk and Eddie Collins are able to play regularly, things won't be so pleasant for the Chicago White Sox next season.

In Ben Paschal and Earl Coombs of the New York Yankees have two of the fastest steppers in the business going down to first.

Ty Cobb, a pretty good batsman himself, says Red Winco of his club is easily the greatest natural left-handed hitter in the majors. He hits every ball hard.

Rogers Hornsby says every ball player should have at least 10 hours sleep during the playing season. He says he thrives on 12.

"Stuffy" McInnis, veteran first baseman of the Pittsburgh Pirates, is rated the best golf player in the majors. He always plays in the 80's and very often is below that figure.

Ty Cobb said he would play in 100 games in 1925. The records credit him with 101 performances. He expects to hit the century mark again next season.

DEPERE CAGE SQUAD WHIPS LITTLE CHUTE

The De Pere Junior cagers whipped the Junior Holy Name society team of Little Chute on their home floor. The score was 19-5. Verstagen and Greenwood starred for the winners, and Johnson and Wulenberg for the losing team.

Paris—(P)—The extent to which soccer football has become an institution in France is shown in the participation of 336 clubs for the French cup. In the opening matches, 3658 athletes played football before total crowds variously estimated between 500,000 and 1,000,000 people. There were 114 teams entered in 1919

STATE LUTHERAN PIN MEET HEADS VISIT APPLETON

Several Badger Cities on Route of "Recruiting Office" on Long Trip Next Week.

Officers of the 1926 Wisconsin Lutheran Bowling tournament which will be held in Racine next April will visit Appleton in the next week to start recruiting teams for the meet. President Scherfow will head the group which will visit this city, Manitowish and Fond du Lac in one day and make side excursions to other cities which will be represented. At least 500 teams are expected at the Belle city meet. The following article appeared in the Racine papers in regard to the affair:

"Committee: which will handle all details connected with the staging of the Wisconsin Lutheran Bowling tournament on the Arcade drives this city, next April, were named at a meeting of those interested held at St. John's hall. Plans call for touring up 500 teams for the big event, 150 from Milwaukee and from 60 to 70 from this city and all indications point to a banner pin meet.

Officers of the state association headed by President Scherfow will make a tour of the state next week, stopping at several of the important cities in an effort to boost attendance at the tourney. They plan to stop at Appleton, Fond du Lac and Manitowish one day and make side excursions to other cities which will be represented.

The Racine Lutherans are making great plans to insure the success of the tourney as it is the first opportunity they have had to put on the big event. While the meet will not be staged until April, the committees are getting busy at the present time and will keep on the job until the meet gets under way.

ASK ROCKNE, MEANWELL TO TEACH COACH SCHOOL

Superior—(P)—Knut K. Rockne, Notre Dame athletic director, and W. Meanwell, University of Wisconsin basketball coach, are being sought to repeat their summer coaching school of two years ago at the Superior Normal School next year. The Superior Kiwanis club is sponsoring the effort.

The proposed course would be one of two weeks length with intensive study and practical demonstrations. Rockne would conduct football classes with Meanwell stressing basketball and training. An examination would close the work. The course would be given in July.

Approached at the Notre Dame-Minnesota football game last fall, Rockne said he planned to conduct only two coaching schools next year, one at South Bend.

He indicated that conditions, weather and equipment at Superior were such as to incline him favorably toward making it the location for his only other school.

Detroit—Clarence Rosen, Detroit bantamweight, and Howard Mayberry, Duluth, Minn., fought a draw, ten rounds.

Youngstown, Ohio—Jack Malone, St. Paul, outpointed Dick Evans, Youngstown middleweight, 12 rounds.

KID KAPLAN WINS FROM HERMAN TO HOLD RING TITLE

Aggressive Offense in Final Rounds Gives Champ Decision in "Wrestling" Match.

New York—(P)—Louis "Kid" Kaplan hold of the world's featherweight ring title was more secure Saturday as the result of a convincing decision over his persistent challenger, the erstwhile Californian, Babe Herman, Friday night before 11,000 spectators in Madison Square Garden.

In spite of the fact that Kaplan's second defense of his title within four months against his most dangerous foe was marked by frequent clinching and wrestling, the contest at least cleared the atmosphere of doubt which prevailed after their first title contest last August at Waterbury, Conn.

The draw verdict given the Meriden Conn. titleholder after 15 hard fought rounds in that bout was received with almost unanimous disapproval by visiting newspaper men who considered that Herman was clearly entitled to the verdict and the championship.

Kaplan's aggressive offensive Friday night, however, won him 11 of the 15 rounds while but two were carried by Herman, with the remaining two rounds adjudged even.

Herman was in steady retreat before the attack of the champion except in the tenth and fourteenth when he rallied with slinging right hand drives to the face. Twice he took aggressive plunges to the canvas once in the tenth when he stumbled and again in the fifteenth when he dived to the floor to avoid a swing.

The bout was devoid of spectacular features which had colored their six previous encounters, four of which took place prior to Kaplan's winning of the 126 pound title.

The weights were announced as Kaplan 125; Herman 123½.

NORTHERN PINMEN TAKE EASY MATCH

Brauer of the winners had high series with a 580 and A. Jomos, a teammate had high game, making up a 245 score. Two of the losers, M. King and J. 90 Appleton Pin Squads To Open 1926 Fair Sex Meet As Booster Teams

Local Women Alley Knights Outdo State Record by 10 Teams; Expect 1,000 Bowlers.

Appleton women bowling enthusiasts completed their drive for booster teams for the 1926 State Womans Bowling tournament, which will be held here from Feb. 4-14, this week by setting a new mark of 90 teams. The mark is ten more than the state record established by Racine last year when 80 booster teams opened the meet. The 90 mark will give all other tournament cities of the future a good record to shoot and will put northern Wisconsin on the pin map. The 1926 meet is being held the farthest north of any state womans bowling tourney, but other northern Wisconsin cities probably will get it in the future due to the fine work her ethics year.

The importance of the meet to Appleton is realized when it can definitely be stated that nearly 1,000 women from all over the state will visit this city and patronize its industries for over a week and carry away their impressions of it. Fond du Lac and Green Bay are sending the largest delegations ever sent out from these cities and others are expected to follow suit. With Appleton having 90 booster teams in the field, 450 women will roll on the opening squads. Any woman interested in bowling, whether experienced or not, can roll on one of the teams by getting in touch with Miss Sylvia Roudelush at 703 or Mrs. A. T. Jense at 488. Only the regular game fee of 75 cents will be charged booster rollers.

Ford Delivers 146,788 Cars And Trucks In November

All records for early winter Ford sales were broken during November when 146,788 passenger cars and trucks were delivered to retail customers in the United States. This is an increase of approximately 25,000 over the November sales a year ago.

Another evidence of the popularity of the improved Ford passenger cars is shown in the enrollments in the Ford Weekly Purchase Plan, which have risen to unprecedented numbers. During November a total of 31,425 persons enrolled under the plan and began paying on cars; more than twice as many as enrolled during the same month last year.

As the holidays approach deliveries of cars to customers who have been buying them under the Weekly Purchase Plan are increasing. Some began paying on their automobiles as long as a year ago, others during the early spring and summer months, long before the improved Ford types were introduced. All now benefit in the convenience and comforts afforded by the improved cars and their increased value, without any additional cost.

COUNCIL WILL

SEE BUILDING

AND STREET SITE

Meeting for Inspection * Is Called Monday Afternoon

by Mayor.

Two inspection tours will be made by the common council Monday afternoon in conformity with action taken at the regular meeting Wednesday evening. Mayor John Goodland, Jr.

has issued a call to the aldermen to meet at 1:30 at the city hall to consider the Langstadt-Meyer Co. building purchase and the diagonal street to the junction.

These are projects which have been brought to the attention of the council and the aldermen decided the best way to reach an opinion was to go over them personally. The council will visit block 81 where it is proposed to buy a tract of land so that a street

can be opened to Appleton Junction parallel with the Chicago and Northwestern railway tracks. The present idea is to start the diagonal street at

W. Spencer-st and run it southward to the junction, leaving the part northward to College-ave for later consideration, as a manufacturing plant is located on a portion of the area needed. It will be possible to breach the junction by way of S. Cherry, W. Spencer and the proposed street instead of the circuitous route by way of W. Prospect-ave if the project is carried through.

Opinions differ widely on the wisdom of purchasing the Langstadt-Meyer

Co. building and the mayor and aldermen want to see the building for themselves.

Considerable opposition has been heard in discussions on the street, but the city officials believe there is enough merit in the project to give it sober reflection. The general impression is that the building would be bought for a fire and police station only, which would make the cost excessive. There is enough room available in the building to house all the equipment of the street department.

The proposal is now at the stage of building to house the street department tools, machinery and automotive equipment and this expense could be saved by utilizing the Langstadt-Meyer building. It is said also that the city can trade its present fire and police station corner to advantage and obtain in return not only a building

but two vacant pieces of property on each side of the structure with more than 100 feet of frontage on E.

Washington-st and extending through to E. Johnson-st.

A. A. L. PRESIDENT TO

ENTERTAIN DIRECTORS

G. D. Ziegler, president of the Aid

Association for Lutherans will entertain officers, directors and employees of the home office of the association at a banquet Monday evening at the Conway hotel, the occasion being his

MOOSE PARTY

The annual Christmas party given by the Moose of Appleton for Moose members and families will be held at 7:30 Sunday evening in the Moose temple.

A program of speaking and singing will be given by the children. Gifts will be distributed by Santa Claus and there will be a prettily decorated

Christmas tree. Only members of Moose and their families will be admitted to the party. About 500 are expected. Arrangements for the event are in charge of Mr. and Mrs.

George Auer.

Earl W. Hake, Great North Moose

of the Fox River valley was in Fond du Lac, Thursday, making arrangements for the next frolic to be held

Jan. 24 at Fond du Lac. A class of candidates will be initiated and preparations are being made for a program and "Old time Mulligan feed."

all the soap and softener—then SPIN the

The HOOVER

It BEATS... as it Sweeps as it Cleans

To buy any cleaner but a Hoover is extravagance

To pay good money for an electric cleaner which only partially meets your need, when for a few dollars more you can completely meet it, is extravagance.

We say that The Hoover completely meets your need because it combines all three kinds of cleaning your rugs must have to be thoroughly clean.

It beats... because only beating will dislodge and vibrate to the surface the dangerous, deeply-embedded, nap-cutting dirt which is buried deep in every rug not beaten regularly and often.
It sweeps, with its soft bristled motor-driven brush, gathering up all lint and hair which is usually so difficult to remove.

And it suction-cleans, but it depends upon suction only to complete the removal of the beaten-out, swept-up dirt.

It saves time and labor, as do all cleaners. But it also saves rugs for years of longer wear.
Because it keeps them clean as only the cleaner can that "beats, as it sweeps, as it cleans."

What cleaner do you know of, other than The Hoover, which so completely meets your need?
Therefore, to buy any cleaner
but a Hoover is extravagance.
